You can easily view your account balance and trade history on the MetaTrader 5 (MT5) platform using the 'Toolbox' window. Follow these steps:

Account Balance:

Trade Tab: Open the 'Toolbox' window by pressing Ctrl+T or navigating to 'View' > 'Toolbox' in the menu.
Go to the 'Trade' tab to view detailed information such as your account balance, equity, margin, free margin, margin level, as well as any open positions and pending orders.

Trade History:

History Tab: Switch to the 'Account History' tab within the 'Toolbox' window to access a detailed record of all your completed trades. This includes:
Trade date and time.
Trade type, size, and instrument.
Entry price, take-profit, and stop-loss levels.
Closing price and time, swap fees, and profit.
Filtering and Exporting: Right-click within the 'Account History' tab to filter the data by specific time periods or export it to a file for further analysis.

Viewing via the WM Portal:

Log in to the WM Portal to access your account balance and trade history.
Select 'View More' next to your account number and click on 'Trading History' for a comprehensive overview of your past trades.

These features ensure you have full visibility and control over your trading activities, whether through the MT5 platform or the WM Portal.
